Near Cincinnati a gentleman has a six acre lot of grape wines, which will yield 1000 gallons of grape juice to the acre, worth $1 a gallon.

A cow bought for ten dollars, whose milk but just pays her keeping, affords less profit than one at thirty dollars, giving double the value of milk afforded by the former.

It costs no more to raise a hundred bushels of Baldwins than a hundred bushels of cider apples; or ten barrels of Virgaleaus or Bartletts, than the same quantity of choke-pears.

An axe costing two dollars, with which a laborer may cut fifty cords a month, is a cheaper tool than an axe costing but one dollar, and with which he can cut only forty cords.

A common dasher churn at two dollars, used one hundred times a year, is not so economical a purchase as a Kendal churn at four dollars, requiring but half the labor to work it.

The Portsmouth Chronicle states that in a garden in that city is a St. Andrew's pear tree. which has borne three crops of years the present season, and is now in bud for the tourth crop.

Spent tan may be profitably used in compost. Formerly it was deemed worthless for purposes of enrichment, but recent experience has demonstrated the utter erroneousness of this opinion -When composted with lime or other alkalescent articles, and permitted to ferment, it soon loses its astringent properties, and when applied to vegetation produces all the salutaty effects of animal excrement.

The fallen foliage of the forest, taken with the rich surface soil, formed partly by the decomposition of previous castings, makes also a good ingredient in the compost heap. Mid winter or early spring is the most proper time for accumulating and transporting them, as they are at that season wet and consolidated by the pressure of the winter snow. When dry, they are not so easily gathered.

Recent accounts from the Chincha Islands state that a new survey has been made of the guano, and it was ascertained that the manure is several feet deeper all over the island than was hitherto supposed. Large valleys were found to exist which were hitherto unknown, completely filled, with guano to a level with the surface of the hills and it is now thought that the supply | brin County, Pa. will prove almost inexhaustible.

Blyand Indiana, J. C. Day Bluirsville. August 10, 1853 .- 1y, STORR'S CHEMICAL HAIR INVIG-ORATOR.

THIS delightful and popular article is the best preparation for the hair which long experionce and scientific research has produced, either zaan article for the toilet, or its beneficial effects in all the diseases to which the human hair is listle. It will impart to the roughest and coursest hair the most beautiful appearance, entirely cleansing it from all impurities. But while we assert that it is the best article for the toilet of those who wish to retain the bair in all its youthfu LUXURIANCE AND BEAUTY. t must not I e forgottou that in all diseases of the halr or scalp, such as the falling of the hair dandruff, pimpies, or sores on the scalp, &c., it is perhaps the article which has given decided satisfac-on every instance where it has been used. Its operation in case of baldness is peculiarly ctive, so that, in numerous, where other remedies have been tried in vain, STORR'S CHEMICAL IN-VIGORATOR has superseded the ornaments of art, by reinstating, in full plentitude, the permanent gifts and graces of nature. It is possessed of a character wholly differing from the Oils, Grease, Restoratives, &c., which are now so numerously foisted on the public, for baldness, gray heir, &c.

Sterr's Invigorator has now been tested for years, and its efficacy has been proved by thousands. Every year its reputstion and sales have increased, until more of it is consumed annually than of any other preparation: for the hair ever offered to the American publica-It is compounded on strictly scientific principles, and the proprietor will stake his reputation on its
